CHURCHILL DOWNS TRAINERS NOW GIVING THEIR HORSES FAST WORK.

The Fad and Topland, C. C. Van Meter's Kentucky Derby Candidates, Go Mile in 1:44½ and 1:45, Respectively.

Louisville, Ky., March 25.—Trainer C. C. Van Meter was again in the limelight yesterday with his two Kentucky Derby candidates, The Fad and Topland. He permitted each to go a mile and an eighth, pulling up, after they had been rated for a mile. The Fad went his mile in 1:44½ and went on a mile and an eighth in 1:50½, while Topland worked a mile in 1:45 and ran the full distance in 1:50½. Both did their work well in hand and pulled up fresh, sound and strong. Van Meter put the fast work into them because he thought a rain might come. He is sure to have them in condition for the big race and, in fact, as far as forward preparation goes, they are fitter right now for the big race than any Derby candidates in training at the local tracks.

A speedy bit of work yesterday was accomplished by Dominer, a maiden three-year-old that Peter Coyne has in George J. Long's stable. He sent the son of Alcesot three-eighths in 36½. This colt is a half-brother to Palamon and as a yearling worked a quarter in 23½, and then went wrong.

A new Kentucky Derby candidate loomed up at Churchill Downs yesterday when for the first time trainer Walter S. Hopkins worked the bay colt, Charles F. Grainger, three-quarters in 1:21 under double wraps. He went the first eighth in 13, the quarter in 26½, three-eighths in 39½, half in 53 and five-eighths in 1:05½. The colt is a good looking and is considered best of the maidens that are eligible to the big race.

Charles F. Grainger, named out of compliment to the president of the New Louisville Jockey Club, is owned by A. V. Oldham, who for several seasons successfully raced the good horse Colonel Jim Douglas. He is as well bred as any of the Derby candidates, his sire, Meltonian, being by the English Derby winner, Melton, and his dam, Lucy Jones, is a daughter of Bernance, sire of the sensational Hermis. John Rodegast, the veteran Lexington trainer, handled Charles F. Grainger for Mr. Oldham last season, but only started the colt once at the age end of the Latonia fall meeting, and though he finished outside the money, he showed plainly he could run fast by going the first quarter in 23½ over a slow track. The colt gets in the Derby with the full twelve-pound maiden allowance. Leonatus is the only winner of the Kentucky Derby that failed to win as a two-year-old.

The best two-year-old work yesterday was a quarter in 24½, by the Broomstick—Sue Smith colt in the stable with Waldo, and one of the best lookers at Churchill Downs. Trainer Colston is giving this youngster a careful preparation, as if all goes well with him he is to be C. L. Harrison's color bearer in the Great Trial.

One work-out that considerably interested horsemen was that of the 1909 Kentucky Derby winner, Watergreen, from the Bessie stable, as he is one of the most talked about Clark Handicap candidates in training here. He was only asked to go a half mile, but this he did with ease in 52, and pulled up as sound as a bell. He looks lusty and strong this season and has grown into a fine-looking four-year-old.

Trainer John Ferriss received five fresh horses from Tennessee and his string at Churchill Downs now numbers fourteen head. Two of the new ones he owns himself, one being a three-year-old maiden colt by The Commodore, and the other a two-year-old chestnut colt by King Hanover, out of the good race mare Lady of the West, by Chorister. This youngster, a Bashford Manor Stakes eligible, he has named Western Boy. The other three are owned by J. C. Greenleaf, the famous trainer who handled the Latonia Derby winner, Olambala, last season. They are all two-year-olds by My Boy II. One is a chestnut filly out of Olefant, by Crans; another is a brown filly out of Owsel, a sister to Olefant, and the third is a bay filly out of Owsen, a sister to the good race horse, Owsen. The pick of this trio will be a starter in the Debutante Stakes.

Secretary Lyman H. Davis notified owners yesterday that there would be no charge for stall rent at Churchill Downs from April 1 until the coming spring meeting is ended.

W. F. Schulte has returned from New York. It is his intention to ship his string east the last week in April and begin his 1910 racing campaign at Belmont Park. None of his horses will do much racing before June, though trainer Brock has them all in fine shape and could get some of them ready for racing at an earlier date. Yesterday King Olympian, his promising three-year-old, was sent his first mile, and went the distance, centering two-thirds of the way, in 1:53½. Mr. Schulte says that horsemen in the east are not looking for the bills aimed against oral betting to be treated seriously at Albany this year. They are going along at all the eastern tracks with the expectation of having the most successful racing season since the repeal of the Percy-Gray law.

Trainer Arthur Chapman has reached Churchill Downs from Tampa, Fla., with the two-year-old chestnut colt, Clysine Water, by Deering, out of Mary W., by Voltigeur. This youngster is owned by K. Well, a Chicago turfman, who was at Churchill Downs yesterday to inspect the colt. Well arrived from Farmingdale, Ill., where he went to purchase of A. B. Watts two yearlings by the sire of Clysine Water. One is a chestnut filly from Clever and the other a bay filly out of Lady Fitzsimmons, the dam of Maltbie. He found that Watts had sold Graham B., by Pontic, and her yearling chestnut filly to A. C. Quisenberry, of Lincoln, Ill., and that the latter had resold her a few days ago.

Jockey J. McIntyre has arrived from the south and will busy himself in exercising for trainers at Churchill Downs and Douglas Park. McIntyre expects to ride as a free lance this season on the Kentucky and Canadian tracks. The San Francisco rider who is under contract to Garrity & Dunlap, the Pacific coast turfmen, will arrive next week at Churchill Downs to get in condition for the campaign of that stable in the middle west and on the metropolitan courses. Archibald is likely to rank as the premier rider of the twenty-three-days meeting which opens here on May 10. Archibald, like his employers, is about to invade the east for the first time. He is favorably known on the coast tracks and during the winter meeting at Juarez, Mex., he piloted the horses of Garrity & Dunlap with fair success, though his showing did not equal his previous work on the coast because of a mishap in which he sustained a crushed foot.

C. C. Van Meter, whose horses are training in fine shape at the Downs, will continue to ride the black veteran, Dale Austin, on his races. Austin has returned to form, his employer says. Kennedy and H. Jones will ride at the Downs for J. R. Walmeright and Fred Luzader. Eddie Martin will pilot J. B. Respass' horses and A. Walsh will ride for W. G. Yanke.

GREENVALE WILL NOT RACE AGAIN.

H. P. Whitney Retires Winner of Last Year's Matron—Brookdale Horses for the Market.

New York, March 25.—There are many fine-looking yearlings at Harry Payne Whitney's Brookdale Farm in New Jersey and Edward C. Taylor, Mr. Whitney's manager, points out with enthusiasm, when the youngsters begin to race about their paddocks before visitors, that a chestnut colt by Burgomaster—Fiesole is always the leader. It makes little difference where this fellow breaks. His speed takes him immediately to the front and he seems to like racing better than his fellows. That a Burgomaster should be the leader of the Brookdale colts delights Taylor's heart, because he is fonder of Burgomaster than of any stallion at the Whitney farm. He concedes the merits of Broomstick, Hamburg and Sandringham, but he considers Burgomaster better than any of them and if he has his say the best of the Whitney mares would be mated with Burgomaster. Two or three years hence, success, with Burgomaster has developed handsomely since he went to Brookdale. He outweighs any stallion there, Sandringham excepted, and is a picture of robust strength and virility.

That yearling that is the leader of the Burgomaster—Fiesole chestnut in these romps about the Brookdale paddocks is a bay son of Hamburg and Morningglade. He is the yearling Taylor likes best after the youngster by Burgomaster. There are forty yearlings all told at Brookdale, twenty-one colts and nineteen fillies. They are a well-grown lot in fine health and their feet and legs are particularly good.

Thomas Welsh has made preparations at Gravesend to take up ten or a dozen of the Brookdale horses. Mr. Welsh's end of the Whitney stable is expected at Gravesend within a few days. Mr. Whitney will not, it is said, train all the racers at Brookdale, of which there are more than thirty. Some of the old campaigners probably will be left behind. But it is understood that Mr. Welsh will get the pick of the two-year-olds.

Greenvale, a daughter of Hamburg and Mincola, with which Mr. Welsh won the filly end of the Matron at Belmont Park last fall, will not come to the races again. She will be mated this year with Sandringham or Broomstick. Greenvale was rather small last season, but she has grown and she bids fair to make a big mare. Greenvale is of the family of Burgomaster, Mincola, her dam, was a daughter of Meddler and Hurly Burly, consequently a half-sister to the great Hamburg stallion Mr. Taylor likes so well.

It is likely that most of the horses that carry the Whitney colors in this country and in England this season will be sold off before the end of the year. The output of Brookdale Farm is increasing steadily and Mr. Whitney cannot afford to keep any save his best campaigners. There is always a demand for Brookdale stock because it is good. Not every horse bearing the Whitney stamp is a Burgomaster or an Artful. Many are second and third raters, but wherever they belong, they race steadily and consistently and few of them have mean tempers. The two-year-olds Jack Joyner is handling in Great Britain for Mr. Whitney this year are an evenly balanced lot of faultless breeding and, according to all accounts, are doing well.

JAMESTOWN MEETING LOOMS IMPORTANT.

Norfolk, Va., March 25.—The meeting of the Jamestown Jockey Club, scheduled to commence April 1, will be watched with interest outside of Norfolk. Turf lovers realize that this meeting will determine whether or not Norfolk is to fill the role formerly assumed by Benning of opening and closing the eastern racing season. Turfites are, as a rule, slow to lend their support to a new venture, and as a consequence the previous meetings held at the Jamestown course were not supported by outsiders as they should have been, but from all points come the news that the present meeting, with unopposed dates, is to receive the unbounded endorsement of racing people, which will be evidenced by their appearance here April 1. Keen interest in the approaching meeting is being manifested in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. The class of horses looked to appear at the meeting causes the meeting to take on an air of importance in the turf world that has been lacking in preceding meetings held here. As the successor to Benning, Norfolk, with its splendid hotel accommodations, easy access to the city, and its fine quarters, is well qualified to fill the breach left vacant by the elimination of Benning from the racing map.

The track proper is all that could be desired for spring and fall racing, the excellent drainage being the means of keeping the track in good condition in all kinds of weather. Trainers who have fitted their charges over the course proclaim it one of the safest in the country.

OFFICERS OF UTAH JOCKEY CLUB.

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 25.—At the recent meeting of the Utah Jockey Club the following officers were chosen: Richard Dwyer, of San Francisco, general manager and starter; Frank Skinner, of San Francisco, presiding judge and handicapper; J. N. Maynard, of Salt Lake, associate judge; Sam C. McGibben, of San Francisco, clerk of scales; F. V. Fitzgerald, of Salt Lake, assistant clerk of scales; J. C. Dine, of San Francisco, podlock judge and entry clerk; E. C. Peurson, of Salt Lake, patrol judge; F. E. Schefski, of Salt Lake, official timer; Dr. A. S. Kendall, track veterinarian; Dr. F. B. Steele, of Salt Lake, track surgeon; Arthur Elrod, of Louisville, ring manager; board of stewards, Frank Skinner, Richard Dwyer and John Condon.

The association guarantees $1,500 a day in purses. Guarantees of seven stakes of $1,000 or more are made. The Utah Derby, for three-year-olds and over, mile and an eighth, will have a value of $1,200. All reputable bookmakers will be admitted to the ring.

INQUEST ON ROBERT TUCKER'S DEATH.

Louisville, Ky., March 25.—An inquest was today held into the death of Robert Tucker, the well-known turfman, and resulted in the returning of a verdict of "death due to natural causes." Investigation into the causes leading up to Mr. Tucker's death were brought about owing to the circulation of rumors of foul play. It was shown that the deceased had lain on the third floor of his residence from 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon until 10 o'clock Friday morning before his body was found. His supposed absence from home was held to be the belief that he was at the Churchill Downs race track. Physicians who examined the body say heart disease was the cause of his death.

SEAGRAM STRING IN TRAINING.

Toronto, Ont., March 25.—Trainer Barry Littlefield is taking advantage of the summerlike weather and is getting busy with the big string of thoroughbreds he is training for J. E. Seagram at Waterloo. Yesterday he had them all on the training track for the first time. This is about three weeks earlier than ever before and the track is in first-class shape, with the dust flying. The horses all wintered well, there being no sickness of any account. Bonnet, the crack of the string, Seismie, Shucow, Jane Shore, Pearl Fisher and Tolendall all look well.

PRINCE IMPERIAL IS PROMISING.

Is Training in Manner Suggesting He Will Prove Useful Three-Year-Old—Work of Eastern Horses.

New York, March 25.—Prince Imperial and Pretend are a pair of three-year-olds that are being fitted for the races by Thomas Welsh at Gravesend that are likely to sustain the reputation of the Brooklyn Jockey Club course as a winter training ground. Welsh has by long odds the most pretentious stable at Gravesend, and while many of the horses in his care may not be seen under colors before the Belmont Park meeting and perhaps not until later, these two three-year-olds are meant for an earlier try, judging by the way in which they are being trained. Yesterday, in company with the older horses, Wise Mason and The Squire, the two three-year-olds went along for five-eighths in 1:11, and while the time does not compare with some of the work over the same ground, the manner in which the task was accomplished was exceedingly impressive and indicated that had it been required they could have shown much more speed. Prince Imperial did not come out until late last season, but he showed enough in his races to merit respect and he is likely to be one of the truly good three-year-olds of 1910. Pretend's races were promising, and it is a question if he was not a better colt than his best performer. Those in the younger division shown yesterday were Royal Meteor, Ariosto, Mutineer and Danger Mark, all of the Newcastle Stable.

Frank Taylor worked the champion, Fitz Herbert, a quarter in 29 over the Gravesend track. The handsome son of Ethelbert is taking on flesh as a trainee, which is a peculiarity of his that has made him a particularly sturdy campaigner. All last year, when he was meeting and beating all comers, he carried a great deal of flesh, and when at his best was heavier by many pounds than when he first appeared under colors after his season in California. Adrienne is one that Taylor will show in the early races, and she has been doing all that has been asked of her in a satisfactory manner.

Rockstone has been showing quite some speed lately, and he is another that will undoubtedly come out of retirement in the early days of the Aqueduct meeting. Frank Weir sent him five-eighths in 1:09 yesterday and the old fellow was fighting for head every foot of the way.

George Odell will be on hand at Aqueduct with a useful lot of horses. His operations at Sheephead Bay have been eminently satisfactory and every horse in his stable is beginning to look fit to race. Kinbus gives promise of being as good as he ever was. His four two-year-olds romped along behind Nimbus for three-eighths in 40, hard held all through the move. Prince Gal, Grace, Bonnie Kelson, Follie Levy and Traveller were others that were shown in improving exercises.

Trainer C. F. Clark is the latest arrival at Belmont Park. He was associated for a long time with Robert Smith in the handling and management of Turncoat, Zacatecas and Shapdale in recent years and the good handcap race, Articulate, of other days. This year he only has Lord Stanhope, which horse was turned out at Huntington, L. I., during the winter. Trainer Clark is of the opinion that Lord Stanhope will train and race satisfactorily this season.

HILDRETH REGRETS HAVING SOLD UNCLE.

New York, March 25.—S. C. Hildreth now regrets that he sold Uncle to Charles Kohler last fall, as he thinks the horse could be trained and raced. "I had Uncle ready for the races at Saratoga last summer," he said yesterday, "but an accident prevented me from getting him to the post. In playing about on the track one day, after working half a mile in 46½, he reared and, bringing his feet together, struck one of his ankles and became lame. I do not believe there is a thing the matter with Uncle now, and if I had him in the Carter Handicap I could try to get him ready for it. Uncle was unquestionably the fastest horse I ever saddled. How far he would go I do not know, but neither Fitz Herbert nor King James could outrun him. When he went out on the track at Saratoga last summer and turned that half in 46½, I told the boys on his back no more, but let him go a half in better than 49. But Uncle wanted to run, and run he did. I did not realize how fast he was going until I looked at my watch. He ran so easily one would have thought he was loping along at a two-minute clip. The day he broke down, a year ago last spring, I sent him out to work a half in 50, and he did it in 45½ without turning a hair. He did this work in preparation for the Withers of 1908, in which he was to have met Uncle. I could not believe my watch until the evidence was confirmed by comparison with the watches of others who had seen the move. I thought the Withers purse mine, no matter what horses started, until the next day, when it turned out that Uncle was lame. The only thing that softens my regret at having sold Uncle is the remembrance that he went to Mr. Kohler with the understanding that he was not to race again.

If I had Uncle now, I could fool along with him all spring and easily get $5,000 or $6,000 for him in the event he failed to make good. If there is anything in breeding, speed, individuality and good temper, he will be successful at the Ramapo Stud. I would be content to take over a big string of two-year-olds four years hence if I could get the produce of the seventeen mares John Madden has sent to Ramapo to be mated with Uncle."

CATERING TO THE STEEPLECHASERS.

New York, March 25.—Turfmen interested in cross-country racing are being well looked after from every viewpoint at Belmont Park. All the fences on the main and schooling courses have been overhauled recently and Superintendent William A. Gorman has just completed a corral in the infield of the mile training track. The corral meets with the approval of many horsemen who race through the field, inasmuch as it will play an important part in the early education of horses intended for steeplechasing and hurdle racing.

Two hurdles have been erected in the center of the enclosure and these may be raised or lowered at will. The late Francis D. Beard, who raced the Suburban winner, Lazzarone, Jefferson and other good horses under the name of the Erie Stable, was a strong believer in the use of a corral for the development of young jumpers. Mr. Beard had built for his private use one of these enclosures adjoining his barn on the Brighton Beach course.

BOOLA BOOLA WORKS DISAPPOINTINGLY.

Lexington, Ky., March 25.—The Kentucky Derby candidates, Joe Morris and Boola Boola, worked today, the former five-eighths in 1:05½ and the latter half a mile in 50½. Trainer Jack Keene was disappointed in Boola Boola's showing.

V. J. Reynolds, of Waynesburg, Penn., arrived here today with four horses. Clarence H. Moway and a turf intimate, Charles Carroll, are at Kingston Farm. They arrived last night and will leave tomorrow.

MARTINEZ AGAIN A WINNER

CHELSEA STABLE'S GOOD THREE-YEAR-OLD BEATS GOOD ONES AT MONCREIF.

R. D. Williams Scores a Double, but Run-ups Cost Him the Two Purses—Ruling Against Trainer of Grace Kimball.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 25.—R. D. Williams furnished two of the winners at Moncreif Park this afternoon in Jane Swift and Colonel Ashmeade, but it did not profit him to any great extent as both were run up the value of the purse by Oscar Holder. Both made runaway affairs of their races and both were ridden by the apprentice rider, F. Adams. Jane Swift was much the best of her field. She was swerving all over the track in the stretch and finished close to the outer fence. Despite this she won by four lengths.

In the fourth race the Chelsea Stable's Martinez defeated the highly-touted Duke of Oranode, coming from behind and passing him in the final furlong. Turncoat's victory in the fifth race came only after a desperate struggle with Grace Kimball and he succeeded in getting his nose in front only in the final stride. Grace Kimball showed a great turn of speed in the race and made all the pace. That her stable connections looked to see her run a good race was evident as she was backed from 60 to 10 to 1. In her previous effort Grace Kimball receded from 20 to 60 to 1 and was a distant trailer. Her improvement was so startling that the judges ordered that the further entries of Great Jubilee, Otego and Grace Kimball, all of which are trained by C. K. Moore, be refused and a recommendation was made to the stewards of the Southern Jockey Club that Moore's license be revoked.

A carload of horses made up of the stables of Hugh Penny, Frank McCabe and F. W. Healey left tonight for Jamestown. Jockey Jimmy Reid, who is under contract to Penny, will remain here until Wednesday.

The stewards of the Southern Jockey Club have granted dates for the Pensacola meeting.

PENSACOLA MEETING OPENS TODAY.

Sanction Granted by Southern Jockey Club Gives It Official Standing—Plant in Crude State.

Pensacola, Fla., March 25.—Pensacola's proposed thirty-days term of racing will be inaugurated tomorrow under auspices that augur well in a financial way for the promoters. The townsfolk have taken kindly to the venture judging by the expressions of good will heard on every hand this afternoon. The plant is, however, a crude affair, one that would not appeal to the critical. The track is slightly over half a mile in circumference—to be exact, forty-five feet over. In width it ranges from thirty to forty feet. The grandstand, despite the big force of men that has been employed, is still without a roof and canvas will have to be used for temporary covering. Canvas will also be substituted for the regulation outer fence. Lack of time intervening after the turning over of the plant by promoter Bickers to Mr. Ruprich and his associates is responsible for the present chaotic state of things. Work will be continued on shaping up the plant until it presents some semblance of a racing enclosure. Many are inclined to doubt the wisdom of the policy of the promoters in attempting a meeting. They contend that if given a good plant, complete in every detail, Pensacola could be made an advantageous racing place.

About 200 horses are quartered at the course or nearby ready to engage in the racing, among them some fairly useful ones. There is a fair list of riders also. The management announced tonight that the betting ring would be open on all reputable lay-ers. Indications are that five will go on tomorrow, Eugene Austin, who represented the Shaw interests at Tampa, will be among the layers to operate.

The Tampa delegation arrived yesterday and, though finding conditions not exactly as represented, are making the best of it.

Mr. Ruprich, who assumed the management of the plant after the elimination of W. H. Bickers, announced to the horsemen that all obligations would be promptly met and that purses would be paid immediately after the running of each race.

Edward Corrigan intends campaigning his string here until the opening of the Lexington meeting.

John Hachmeister, representing the Cella-Adler-Ties interests, in company with Charles F. Price, arrived today. They gave rise to a rumor that the St. Louis triumvirate were financially interested in the meeting. Messrs. Price and Hachmeister are on their way to Louisville, after having spent most of the winter at Magnolia Springs, Ala. They may remain to witness the opening.

Jockey Glasner, who headed the list of riders at Tampa, will ride free lance here, but will be astride most of the starters from the Corrigan stable.

Announcement that the Southern Jockey Club has granted the Pensacola meeting sanction to run for two weeks, with the condition that the time will be extended two weeks longer, has given the venture official standing and many horsemen are expected here after the close of racing at Jacksonville.

LONG-SHOT DAY AT OAKLAND.

San Francisco, Cal., March 25.—Outsiders were to the front at Oakland today. Aks-Ar-Ben being the only favorite to win. Woodlander, the longest-priced winner, took the first race at odds of 25-1. Bon Fortune, backed from 12-1 to 7-1 led his field home in the fifth and Pickaway, a 15-1 chance, won all the way in the closing dash.

The Sobrante Handicap resulted in an easy victory for Myles O'Connell over Chester Krum, the odds-on favorite. Another odds-on favorite to meet defeat was Aragonese in the two-year-old race, in which Winona Winter graduated from the maiden ranks by beating Jim Bascy, which got away poorly.

Starter Dwyer fined Glass $50 for breaking through the barrier with Wanor.

W. G. Yanke plans to leave Sunday for Louisville to take up twenty-five two-year-olds in which he and Colonel Applegate are interested. Soon, All Balance and Barbur will be left on the coast. W. E. Cotton will race Cymbal and Gramercy at minor meetings in the west for Colonel Applegate.

G. M. Johnson's good colt, J. H. Barr, pulled up lame after a work-out recently, and it is feared he will not be able to start again in some while. Jointly from the surreptitiously administered morphine drug, and is well on his way to recovery. The officials are still continuing the search for the "night workers."

J. L. Ross, owner of Phil Mohr and Milt Jones, has obtained second call on Jockey Roy Selden from W. M. Cain, the boy's contract employer. Big Chief's breakdown yesterday is so serious that he probably will not face the barrier again during the meeting.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

W. K. Vanderbilt's Marceau won the Prix de Houdan at Englehen, France, Thursday.
R. F. Carman's string of twenty-eight racers arrived yesterday at Belmont Park from Tampa.
S. C. Hildreth was yesterday made defendant in a $50,000 damage suit filed in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn. The suit was brought by Theodore A.
Severin, a house painter, who alleges that Mr.
Hildreth kicked him in the stomach in May, 1907, and inflicted permanent injuries.
Frank J. Bryan has been appointed steward to represent the Jockey Club at the Jamestown meeting, which begins next Friday, and he will leave for Norfolk forthwith. Mr. Bryan is also an official of the Florida meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club, scheduled to begin April 29.
Jockey Butwell, who has returned to New York from Jacksonville, where he went to ride Fauntleroy in the Florida Special, says that Fauntleroy met with a great deal of interference, but he doubted if the colt could have beaten Green Seal, the winner, under the weights. He thinks Fauntleroy will be a hard horse to beat in the Derby.

TRAINING EXERCISES AT BENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—Many horsemen watched the jumpers schooled over the Benning course yesterday. William Garth, who has the largest string in training for the coming meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club, which will open at Pimlico on April 20, was the busiest trainer at the course.
Villalla and Lucile R. from the Garth stable, were schooled a turn of the course and fenced perfectly.
The latter is a green jumper, but he fenced like an old-timer, taking all the jumps, including the Liverpool, in his stride.Jockey Patton had the mount on Villalla, a winner at the fall meeting at Pimlico. Judging from the way the Garth jumpers have been schooling since coming from Charlottesville the Virginia trainer will have one of the best cross-country stables that will race over the Benning tracks this year. Bobbie Kean, Duke of Roanoke, Lucile R., Villalla and the rest of the lot have done all that has been asked of them since arriving here.Harry Price saw his good racer, Superstition, work three-quarters in 1:22, well in hand. Everard, another that will again sport the Price silks, went the same distance in 1:21.Sal Volatile, recently purchased from J. W. Colt by the Washington horseman, C. C. Smithson, worked half in at High Private and Juggler, from the Smithson stable, who sent three-quarters in 1:24.
Both of these handicap horses look to be in the pink of condition and will be heard from at Pimlico.
There is a race the opening day in which High Private will probably make his debut. Stellaland, a fair jumper, also being trained by Garth, went a half mile in 54, with jockey Roy Sobell in the saddle.
Garth's Clabaugh candidates, Andy Chisholm, Kes-wick and Muskmelon, worked a quarter of a mile at a lively clip. These two-year-olds are going along nicely and with good luck they will be ready for the Clabaugh. Bobbie Kean, which made his first start as a jumper last fall at Pimlico, was among those given slow work. Neoskaleeta, under slight restraint, worked three-quarters in 1:25.
Max Smart, who is training the horses of Dr. J.
S. Tyne, pending William Keating's arrival from Jacksonville, sent Indian Runner three-eighths in 40.
The two-year-olds under his care went the same distance in 39. Stinger and Mollie S. worked a quarter at fast clip.William Martin worked Martin Doyle, Sig. Selwik, Theo Cook, Olive Ely, Charlie Ball, King Commoner and Beau Chilton quarters at better than a two-minute gait. The Turney horses have been going along nicely and will shortly be shipped to Pimlico, where they will get their final touches for the early races.Henry McCarthy worked Rose Beaumont, Miss O'Toole and a two-year-old by Orlando a half mile.
A two-year-old in the stable of Amos Darnay, by Dick Welles—Mrs. Wiggins, which has been on the ailing list since his arrival from the farm, is rounding to and was sent an eighth in 1:32.Sam Tutt, a familiar figure on the turf for over a decade, for years trained by the late J. G. Gilman, and late years by the late Robert Neville, died at his stable last week while sitting in a chair at his stable.
Tutt during the past two seasons campaigned the turfing, Rye Boy.George McGee will accompany the Scully consignments to Jamestown and will ride there as a free lance.P. S. Roberts, former owner of the old horse, Rough Rider, arrived in Washington from Oakland, Cal., and will spend a day here, visiting his friends in this city before going to Jamestown for the meeting that will begin April 1.Jockey Ernest Huppe, who rode for J. W. Colt on the New York tracks last year, will ride the horses now being trained by J. G. Gilman, among them, Peep In, Peep Shot, Magellan, Maria and Faust. Robert Boyle sent the veteran jumpers, Waterway and Thistlehead, three-eighths in 42 and Dacia and Smoker a quarter in 26.

THE NAMING OF RACE HORSES.

The naming of race horses has always been perplexing to turfmen. Annually several thousand colts and fillies have to be named, and the Jockey Club requires that names for these youngsters must be filed for registration on March 1 of each year, at the annual season. Failure to comply costs an owner $50 when he does apply after that date.The Jockey Club also does not permit the use of a name that has been registered within five years, but back of this period, names may be used, and for present use that is within the list of the stud books if he so chooses.Of late years none of the great stables has had the uniformity in names that marked the strings of the noted turfmen of the long since past and gone.
The late Pierre Lorrillard, the millionaire tobacco manufacturer, bestowed on his great horses Indian names, such as Iroquois, Parole, Sachem, Papoose, Pequot and Powhatan, while J. W. Hunt Reynolds, the noted Kentucky claimant, chose names of musical and musical terms for names for his most brilliant race horses, of which Falsetto, the sire of The Picket and Sir Huon, and Mendelssohn were fair samples.Few stables have ever raced that were as fitly named as the horses owned by the late Charles Fleischmann, of Cincinnati, and his son Julius, former mayor of the Queen City. It has always been understood that Mrs. Julius Fleischmann performed this service for her husband, and it is not surprising that the names she selected were surely hard to beat. For instance, she selected a colt out of Promenade, Stroller, and Smart Set was picked by her for a colt out of Fashionable.J. E. Madden has at times selected names that fitted as well as those selected by Mrs. Fleischmann, as above noted. For example, he named the produce of Blissful, Single Life. Good Luck was another bright name he selected, as that son of Sandringham is one of the best of the breed, and Skiffel, Jackfall, Acefull and Witfull, the get of imported Mithrall, were all well named.J. R. Keene has also struck it happily in naming some of the get of Ben Brush, Birch Broom, Brush by and Sweep all being by that Suburban Handicap winner.The late Major B. G. Thomas once owned the stallion King Ban, and he adopted the form of naming the get of that English horse with a Ban prefix, and Ban Fox, Ban Chief, Ban Hinyar, Ban-bridge, Banburg and others of their like are as a result recorded in the racing guides and stud books.It perhaps is not known to race-goers of today that there was an early Hamburg of about as much racing reputation in his day as that enjoyed in more recent years by Harry Payne Whitney's celebrated son of Hanover of the same name. The early Hamburg raced in 1869, and a season or two later, and sold as a three-year-old for $10,000, an enormous
St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

LEMBERG AND NEIL GOW EARLY FOALS.

I have been requested by a friend, and am most pleased to do so, to give a list of the dates of foaling of nearly all the leading three-year-olds of both sexes, for the sake of easy reference and to show how they rank respecting actual age: Admiral Hawke, February 22; Charles O'Malley, April 1; Galatine, March 4; Greenback, April 23; Impregnable, April 12; Lawrence, April 14; Lemberg, January 29; Lowmerry, April 11; Maid of Corinth, February 23; May Jack, February 24; Mount Felix, April 23; Moylragh, March 28; Neil Gow, January 28; Pasquita, February 18; Prince Rupert, April 12; Proteus, February 12; Rockwell, January 19; Sallie of Navarre, colt, March 4; San Antonio, April 11; Santa Fina, February 11; Stolen Kiss, March 1; Sunbright, February 10; Sunshine, February 27; Treadaby, February 18; Uster King, March 28; White Brumby, March 1; Whitecap, April 6; Yellow Slave, January 25. It will be seen from the above that among the colts Lemberg and Neil Gow have an immense advantage in point of age over such as Greenback and Whisk Broom, being about three months older than the former and nearly three and a half senior to the American-Audax, in Horse and Hound.

BETTING CASE IN ENGLISH COURT.

English papers report a law case before Justice Channell in the King's Bench Division in which a bookmaker sued a client to recover $3,125, which the client owed as the result of betting with him at Sandown Park. An action directly to recover money won would not lie, as the defendant can always plead the gaming act and evade payment under its protection. In this case it was claimed that the original debt was $3,375, of which the customer paid $250 and undertook to pay the balance in consideration of the bookmaker refraining from certain time from commencing action. The suit was brought under this alleged agreement for forbearance, as the money had not been paid at the expiration of the time. The court found that the agreement was not proved, and the defendant was for the defendant, fact brought out in the hearing was that the bookmaker was also a sidesman of his parish church.

AMERICANS IN FRENCH STEEPLECHASE.

Among the entries to the great steeplechase to be run in the third week of June at Auteuil, France, for a prize in excess of $30,000, are the following horses owned by American turfmen: H. B. Duryea's Ben Ban; Thomas Hirschcock, Jr.'s Stokes; California King; Hylas and Clockwork; W. K. Vanderbilt's Gambasull and Five O'Clock; Joseph E. Widener's Mr. McCann, East River and Ed Wray, and Nash Turner's Villagier. Eugene Fischhoff has named the veterans Dandolo, Journaliste, the winner, and Lock. James Hennessy has named the winner of the Liverpool Grand National, Lutter III. A. V. Picard has nominated fifteen competitors.Arrammore and Christmas Daisy, both winners of big handicaps on the flat in England, have been entered for the big hurdle race to be run at Auteuil, France, in June.

SOMETHING NEW IN STARTING MACHINES.

The sleepy little village of Southwick, in Sussex, opposite the mouth of Shoreham Harbor, is likely some day to wake and find itself famous as a center of industry, for at Osbourne Cottage resides that clever mechanic, Charles Chapman, who, after sixteen years of indomitable perseverance over technical difficulties, has succeeded in perfecting a starting gate which, simple, swift, silent and safe, embodies all the desiderata that render that most important appanage to our race courses as perfect and up-to-date as possible.Last week a Sporting Life representative paid Mr.
Chapman a visit and found him putting a polishing touch to his invention. All that could be seen of the apparatus was unobtrusive enough at a cursory glance—four square posts, the hinder pair nearly the double height and wider span, constituting the nudest framework that supports the motive apparatus. The barrier consists of a single or two covered cords, specially woven by a patent bobbin, and in which at intervals are woven copper staples, so that in the event of the bolts bolting they grip under pressure, to prevent injury to horse or jockey, and can be repaired in a minute.The cord is rigid, but attached through a thimble at each end to a loop of elastic cord, a marvel of resilience and strength, which by two other thimbles is stretched on to two short iron pins, some eighteen inches apart, sloping upwards and backwards on each front post, the elastic attachment thus forming a V-like triangle, with its apex at the connection with the barrier.The bases or perpendiculars of the elastic triangle between the two pegs are embraced by loops of the same material, which is carried through two lignum vitae rings at the top of each back post, and strained down their hollows to a catch at the foot of each. Here comes in the crux of the situation in the shape of a clever lock, which the inventor has christened the "parrot's beak," placed between the upper and lower pins, into which the loop embracing the upright straps of the sustaining elastic triangle is slipped, and when the upper beak closes on the lower, the complete catch can stand a pull of 5 cwt.The gate is released by direct pull by hand, automatically by foot, or by electricity, the pull required being very slight. One snatch and the beak opens, the gate noiselessly vanishes into the air in a flash, and the baffled eye catches it again stretched across the top of the back posts. By electricity, a long green cord, radiating from the foot of the cable, enables the starter to go back with his horse some 100 yards, follow them up as he likes, and the pressure of a button held in his pocket releases the gate.
Moreover, the current simultaneously sounds a gong in the judge's box, a great facility in these days of timing races is brought to such critical perfection.There are no pulleys, no overhead wires, no slides, and no runners. The four posts represent the only material structure, except with reference to the position of the two elastic cords form temporary side connections overhead. It can be erected in six hours, and two lads with two hours tuition can release and refasten it ten times in twenty minutes. It has been shown when the upper beak closes on the lower, the complete catch can stand a pull of 5 cwt.The cords are made by the patentee with a home patented machine of thirty-two bobbins, each fed by three threads, and are particularly tough, somewhat shaggy in shape to a circular lamppipe. They can be plaited in any colors.—Sporting Life.

OPPOSED TO FOOTBALL BOOKING.

The Turf Guardian Society is an association of English race course bookmakers and commission agents for the protection of its members from bad debts and for the elimination of undesirable in their line of business. Race course bookmaking is legal in Great Britain, but football bookmaking is not, though it is extensive, and in this connection the following resolution was passed at the recent annual meeting of the Turf Guardian Society:"That this meeting deprecates any operations by members and others in connection with betting on football, and desires it to be known that the general body of members dissociates itself from any business of this description, and that any of this resolution be sent to the Football Association."

Went to post at 2:30. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second and third the same. Briareus went to the front with great speed and drew away into a long lead, but was tiring and driving hard at the end to stall off Snow Ball. The latter ran well and, finishing gamely under a drive, would have beaten the winner in another stride. Pedigree finished fast after working her way on the outside. Mozart closed a big gap. Tres Joli followed Briareus closely to the stretch and tired unexpectedly.

Went to post at 2:54. At post 2 minutes. Start poor. Won easily; second and third driving. Colonel Ashmeade began fast and, sprinting away from the others in the first furlong, drew away again in the last furlong. Autumn Rose moved up resolutely after entering the homestretch, but tired in the last sixteenth. Belle Mawr ran prominently, but was unable to improve her position in the stretch. Winner—Ch. m. by Handspring—Phantom (trained by R. D. Williams).
Went to post at 3:19. At post 3 minutes. Start poor. Won easily; second and third the same. Jane Swift outbroke her opponents and drew away into a long lead in the first furlong, then led by a wide interval throughout, but kept bearing over to the outside in the homestretch and finished next to the rail. Toll Box ran surprisingly well and was driving to the limit all of the last quarter to stall off Dolly Bultman. The latter came through on the inside on the stretch and finished with a rush. Ballot Box closed a big gap. Stringency was eased up at the end. Light Knight finished fast. C. W. Burt tired. Seymour Beutler ran poorly. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.
Scratched—88633 Home Run, 120; 88494 Conney K., 117; 88503 Square Deal, 120; 88615 John A. Munro, 120.

Winner—B. g. by Voter—Costume (trained by W. C. Westoverland).
Went to post at 4:00. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second and third the same. Turncoat ran in close quarters until entering the homestretch, where he was taken to the outside, then wore Grace Kimball down in the last furlong and outstayed her in a game finish. The latter showed the most speed from the start and tired after racing Toison d'Or into defeat, but on gamely. Critic began slowly and was bumped on the first turn and just managed to stall off the fast coming Earl of Richmond. The latter was off poorly and finished with a rush. Toison d'Or ran well to the stretch. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.
Scratched—88517 Tamar, 105.

Fore Guard ran well to the stretch and tired. The others were badly outdone. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.
